

TransLink has standardised concessions across all services:

Children – five to 14 years of age (inclusive) are eligible for a concession fare. Children who appear to be 15 years of age or older may be requested to show identification. A school photo identification card issued by the school may be used. Children who are four years of age and under travel for free.

Students

School students – students under 14 years of age fall under the child category. Queensland full-time primary and secondary school students are eligible for a concession fare up to their 15th birthday. Secondary students who are 15 years and over must have an approved Queensland student photo identification card or be wearing an official Queensland school uniform to receive a concession fare.

Post-secondary and post-graduate students – eligible full-time students who attend a university, institute of TAFE or other approved post secondary institution located in Queensland are eligible for a concession fare. Post-secondary students must be enrolled in a course which is eligible for Austudy, Abstudy or Youth Allowance and is at a tertiary or post-graduate level. Students must hold a current and valid photo identification card marked ‘full-time’ with the Queensland Rail logo or the Department of Transport and Main Roads (TMR) public transport concession identifier.

Tertiary Transport Card – issued to eligible Queensland students where the educational institution does not have the Queensland Rail logo or the TMR concession identifier on its identification card, such as rural students. The Tertiary Transport Card must show the student’s name and course expiry date and must be presented with a valid student photo identification card to receive the concession fare.

Pensioners – Australian residents holding a current Pensioner Concession Card from any state or territory are eligible for a concession fare. The concession fare is only provided to the holder named on the card. Dependants listed on the card do not receive a concession fare and must pay the appropriate fare.

Seniors – Australian residents holding a valid Seniors Card from any state or territory are eligible for a concession fare. International Seniors cards and Senior Business Discount cards are not accepted.

Repatriation Health Card – Queensland residents who hold a “Repatriation Health Card – For All Conditions” (Gold Card) are eligible for a concession fare. The card must have a file number with the prefix ‘Q’. Cards issued interstate are not accepted.

TPI Veteran Travel Pass – Queensland residents who hold a “Totally and Permanently Incapacitated (TPI) Veteran Travel Pass” are entitled to free travel.

Companion Card – a person who provides attendant care support and travels with a person holding a Companion Card issued by any state or territory is eligible for free travel. The Companion Card holder needs to purchase a valid ticket for travel.

Please note

- all concession ticket holders or concession go card holders must be in possession of a valid concession entitlement card at all times and must present the entitlement card to transport staff or an authorised person upon request when travelling
- Airtrain do not offer concession fares, except for children.
