

TransLink advises passengers of the following guidelines to ensure a safe and enjoyable journey for all

- please have the correct change for ticket selling staff before boarding a bus or ferry
- please do not talk to the driver of a public passenger vehicle while in transit
- passengers must vacate their seats if sitting in an area designated for use by disabled or mobility-impaired persons, when such a person enters a public transport vehicle
- passengers are not to play musical instruments on a public passenger vehicle
- all sound equipment must be operated at a reasonable level with earphones attached, so as not to cause a disturbance to other passengers
- passengers must not place feet on seats
- passengers must not bring on to vehicles excessive amounts of luggage and occupy more than one seat because of said luggage
- passengers must not put anything in the aisles of a public passenger vehicle that is likely to cause an obstruction or injury to someone
- school students are bound by the Queensland Transport “Code of Conduct” when travelling on TransLink services
- school students must vacate seats if adults are standing.
